THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. As of early November 1951 the 5 Army Group, 2 Field Army, was deployed in Kweichow as follows:
 - a. The 16 Army was along the Szechuan-Kweichow and Yunnan-Kweichow highways.
 - b. Headquarters of the 17 Army was at Kueiyang (106-43, 26-35) and its three divisions dispersed between Tushan (107-32, 25-50), Tuyun (107-32, 26-15), Kueiting (107-12, 26-36) and Huangp'ing (107-58, 26-54).
 - c. The 18 Army had left for Tibet.

The two public security units in Kweichow were designated the 49 and 50 Public Security Divisions (PSD). The 49 PSD, with headquarters in Kueiyang, was responsible for garrisoning the city of Kueiyang and various other important cities in northern Kweichow. The 50 PSD, with headquarters in Anshun (105-53, 26-15), was responsible for garrisoning various important cities in southwestern Kweichow. These two divisions were organized in July 1951, and comprised primarily troops from the former Nationalist 49 Army as well as some troops from the former Kweichow Provincial Peace Preservation Force. These former Nationalist troops were given political indoctrination by the Chinese Communists before being reorganized into public security divisions.

3. Seventy-seven hsien have regrouped their local joint defense militia into peoples' self-protection units, totalling about 350,000 men. A portion of these have been organized into five garrison regiments under the command of various military sub-districts. Ts'ehsiang (冊亨) and Wangmo (望謨) Hsien have not regrouped their militia.

In late September, 2,300 sick and wounded from the first group of volunteers from Kweichow in Korea were returned to Kueiyang and sent to the following institu-

- a. The Central Field Hospital of the Kweichow Military District (MD) at T'uyunkuan (106-44, 26-35).
- b. The 1 Field Hospital of the Kweichow MD at Ch'aoyangtung (朝陽洞).
- c. The Kweichow Sanitarium for Disabled Revolutionary Veterans at Lungtungpao (龍洞堡).
